—The actors and attaches of Tammany Hall have formed themselves into a mutual protective association.

—The Worrell Sisters are now in Chicago, and expect to spend the busy month of March in Indianapolis.

—Omaha has an Academy of Music where only the spoken drama is in vogue. "Foul Play" has reached Omaha.

—Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams, and the "Emerald Ring" will be in Philadelphia to-night.

—The organ at St. Paul's, London, is in bad order, and frequently breaks down in the middle of service.

—Verdi's "Don Carlos," and Rossini's "Mose," have been the latest attractions at La Scala, Milan.

—Baden-Baden, next summer, is to have both Adelina Patti and Christine Nillson at its little opera house.

—In the forthcoming production of "Le Prophete," at the Academy of Music, Mr. Maretzek will introduce a large chorus of boy-singers.

—Good orchestra players in London make from two to three pounds per week. In New York they get from twenty to thirty-five dollars.

—Alboni has Monday evening receptions in Paris. She has made a vow over Rossini's grave only to sing in public again for charitable purposes.

—Most of the leading musicians in London are giving in their adhesion to the new normal diapason—that is, to the lower pitch for music.

—Mario, Reeves, La Blache, Tamburini and Ronconi all are or were smokers or snuffers; so the charge that tobacco hurts the voice is disproved.

—Campbell, the baritone of the Richings troupe, is reported to have lost his voice somewhere between Detroit and New York.

—The San Benedetto Theater at Venice, for which Rossini wrote "L'Italiana in Algeira" and "Edvardo e Cristina," is hereafter to be known as the Rossini Theater.

—The Queen of the Belgians is an unusually good harpist. She learned the instrument because her late son was fond of it, and her playing it often soothed the sick child.

—Josefina Filomeno, the clever little Chilian girl, plays both the piano-forte and violin so well that the city critics cannot make up their minds which instrument she excels on.

—Mills, Sanderson and Pattison are the three most prominent professional pianists resident in New York city. They have all been frequently heard in the concert room this season.

—Rossini said that in the library of the Conservatory of Naples there lies stored away an amazing treasure of musical manuscripts by Paisiello, Cimarosa and other old masters.

—When only twenty-eight years of age, the late Sol. Smith gained, by his performance of "old men" parts, the sobriquet of "Old Sol," which has clung to him ever since.

—Mr. Henderson, the manager, denies that he is married to Lydia Thompson, and declares in a card that the report is started by some scoundrel who seeks to damage Miss Thompson's business prospects.

—The Main Legislature does not want the Reciprocity treaty re-established between this country and the British provinces. It would deprive a great many down-easters of the profits of smuggling, which are enormous, and help add to many pious charities when the rich smugglers die.

—The New York Sun says: At the Italian opera on Friday evening Horace Greeley, in the historical drab overcoat, occupied a prominent seat in the parquet. He came alone and evidently to secure a nap. Having deposited his hat under his seat, he sank at once, and before the rise of the curtain, into peaceful slumber, from which neither the roll of kettle-drums, the braying of trumpets, the growling of the bassoons, nor the great climax of all the voices, solo, chorus, and orchestra, was sufficient to arouse him. He was dreaming perchance of "Merry England," for a pleasant smile played about the corners of his mouth. At the close of the second act the great somnambulist quietly fished up his hat and wandered vaguely away.

—The New York Times says: It will gratify all who take an interest in that promising American actress, Miss Kate Bateman, to know that Mr. Bateman has secured the lease of Mr. Booth's theater for sixty nights, commencing on the 20th of September next, for the reappearance in this city of his daughter, now occupying so prominent a position on the histrionic stage abroad. Miss Bateman will be furnished with powerful support, and all the experience and liberality of a competent manager can furnish to make the season a dramatic event will be provided. Mr. Booth will at the same time visit some of the eastern cities on a starring tour.

—Edward Laboulaye says that he receives almost every day new and touching proofs of the attachment which Americans entertain toward him. When, in 1864, he mentioned in one of his lectures on the constitutional history of the United States, which was soon after translated into English, the fact that he had never yet seen a copy of the Police Laws of Connecticut, he received, in the course of the next six months from various parties in the United States, nearly fifty copies of the volume in question, all of them accompanied by letters expressing the kindest of feelings toward him.

—The French Senate receives all sorts of curious petitions. A number of peasants in the Landes Department ask the Senate to apply to the Pope with the request to canonize the Empress for the heroism she displayed at the cholera hospitals of Amiens in the summer of 1865. A notary public of Carcassonne petitions for the restoration of feudal nobility. A spinster lady prays for a law making the malicious killing of cats and dogs a felony. Several old soldiers on half pay petition for the erection of a large bronze statue of Napoleon I at the chief town of every department. Few of these curious petitions are ever reported upon by the committee on petitions.

—The New York Herald says: Mr. Fisk has offered to Mr. Brougham so startling and liberal an amount of money for his interest in Brougham's theater, that John, thrown momentarily off his guard, breathlessly accepted it, and on the 1st of April moves out to give place for Irma, Tostee, and the spirit-like Birgfeldt, who are sworn, on a two years' contract, to establish opera bouffe in New York as a lasting feature. The opening week in April will comprise a rapid succession of Offenbach's operas."

—Criticism has had a new development in the U. S. Senate this week. Senator Sumner took it upon himself to abuse Vinnie Ream's statue of Lincoln, and when asked by Senator Nye if he had seen it, was forced to admit that he had not. Butler first commenced this war upon Miss Ream at the time of the impeachment, and Sumner keeps it up. The lady probably is only Republican and not Radical.

OBITUARY.

VISCOUNT GOUGH.

A cable dispatch announces the death of Right Hon. Hugh Gough, K. P. G. C. B. Viscount Gough was a Field Marshal of the British army and had won great honors in the service. He was born in Limerick, Ireland, November 3, 1779, and entered the army in 1794. In the following year he participated in the capture of the Cape of Good Hope. He served in the West Indies, was present at the attack on Porto Rico and the capture of Surinam. In 1809, he went to the Peninsula and commanded the Eighty-seventh Infantry at the battle of Talavera, Barossa, Vittoria and Nevelle, for which he received a cross. He also took an active part in the sieges of Cadiz and Tariffa, and was severely wounded in the head. It was his regiment that at the battle of Barosa captured the eagle of the Eighth French regiment, and at Vittoria he secured the baton of the French Marshal Jourdan. He was severely wounded a second time at Nevelle. In 1841-2 he commanded the land forces in China, and for the gallant manner in which he made the attack on Canton he was made a G. C. B., and when the campaign was concluded he was made a baronet. He was next dispatched to India, where, on the 29th of December, 1843, with the right wing of the army of the Gwalior he defeated a Mahratta force at Maharajpore and captured fifty-six guns. In 1845-6 he gained several important victories over the Sheik army, for which service he received the thanks of both Houses of Parliament, and was raised to the peerage. He also conducted the campaigns of 1848-9 against the Sheiks in their last desperate struggle, finally subduing his determined enemy, but at a great sacrifice of life. His skill and success won for him additional rank in the peerage, while the East India Company granted him an annual pension of £2000 a year. Parliament granted a similar pension to him and his next two successors in the Viscountcy. Lord George was Colonel of the Royal Horse Guards, Colonel-in-chief of the sixtieth Royal Rifles, Colonel of the London Irish Volunteer Rifles, a Knight of St. Patrick, of the Star of India, and of St. Charles of Spain, and a Privy Councillor.

JOHN ERICSSON.

John Ericsson, the celebrated engineer, whose death at Richland, N. Y., on February 27th, from the effects of the bite of a dog, is announced, was born in the province of Vermeland, Sweden, in the year 1803. When quite young, he evinced a decided inclination for mechanics, and in 1814 was, through the influence of Count Platen, appointed cadet in a corps of engineers. In 1816, he was appointed Niveleur, or officer having charge of the Levels on the grand ship canal of Sweden, and was subsequently enrolled as an ensign in the Swedish army. In this position he was ordered to the survey of Northern Sweden, and rose to the rank of Lieutenant. In 1826, he visited England for the purpose of bringing into notice his "flame engine," and in 1829 he entered into competition for the best locomotive, and produced a machine which obtained the then incredible speed of fifty miles an hour. In 1833, he brought out a "caloric engine, a modification of the air engine, and in 1837 introduced to public notice his screw propeller. A small tug, forty five feet long, eight broad, and twenty-seven inches draught, constructed by him, towed a vessel of 630 tons on the Thames against the tide at the rate of 4½ knots per hour. None of these inventions were received favorably by the British Government, or by the people of England, and in 1839, Ericsson came over to the United States, and, together with the Stocktons, introduced the screw propeller in American waters. In 1853, Ericsson built a steamer of 2200 tons burden, propelled by a caloric engine, but the result of the experiment was not successful. In 1861, the well known Monitor was built by Ericsson on the principle of a revolving turret on a shallow raft, and by its success in the memorable contest with the Merrimac effectually revolutionized the old-fashioned system of maritime warfare. Ericsson, since the close of the war, has been engaged in experimenting upon the best method of utilizing the sun's rays so as to become a motive power, and in constructing solar engines. He was a man of undoubted versatility of invention and of indomitable perseverance. His genius was recognized by his election to numerous scientific societies, and he was a knight of the Swedish Order of Vasa.

MOBILE.

What the Late "Press Convention" Say about It.

From some weeks past our Southern exchanges have been teeming with glowing accounts of the hospitalities extended their representatives at the recent Press Convention in the beautiful "Gulf City"—Mobile. All unite in describing their sojourn there as one continued ovation, a "feast and a frolic," from the moment they arrived until they were escorted to the boats and trains that bore them away from its gardens of roses, and groves of magnolias and oranges. Their enthusiasm is not expended on an unworthy object; for a city combining more of the elements which are essential to make life one glorious idyl does not exist under heaven. A sky as blue and a climate as soft as that of Italy, a bay as beautiful as that of Naples, gardens that rival the Hesperides, drives for miles and miles around the city, through groves of huge magnolias, or along orange bordered gardens, broad streets, beautiful houses, fine horses, lovely women—all this does Mobile claim her own—and much more. But hear what some of those conventionists say.

Says Randal, of the Georgia Constitutionalist:

We stopped at the Battle House, of course. It still maintains its ancient repute, and under the opulent management of Mr. A. M. Godfrey, bids fair to surpass the renown of the past. Our host emulated the Board of Trade in endeavoring to kill us with kindness, and had any of us yielded to death in his hospitable mansion, the Coroner's jury would have held him to strict accountability on the score of supramortal attention.

Scarcely had we regained the ordinary composure forfeited by travel, when members of the Mobile Press and Board of Trade poured in upon us, and were lavish in assurances that they and the city belonged to us during our stay. Hotels, steamboats, carriages, horses, restaurants, theaters—all opened their doors to us, and a member from North Carolina attempting to purchase a pint of goobers from a corner huckster, was astounded by a vender's polite refusal and a hint from him that the Board of Trade had settled all in advance! Our royal Mobilians were determined not only that we should have no want ungratified, but even that wants dimly dreamed of should be anticipated before actually revealed.

* * * * *

There are two Clubs in Mobile—the Manassas and St. James. The former is composed exclusively of the old, solid merchants and professionals—very respectable, very munificent and very grand. During the war it preserved its dignity and hospitality unimpaired. Since the war it has flourished like a green bay tree. Those of us who had the happiness of partaking of its gorgeous banquet will never forget the wine and wit, the spoils of the land and water, sentiment, song and anecdote—the knightly grace of Huger, the passionate eloquence of Dawson, the princely fervor of Ingersoll, the steady flashes of Lamar, the arrowy repartee of St. John, the honest humor of Englehard, the keen thrust of Murphy and the cool parry of Gardner.

The St. James Club is a new institution, and is mainly composed of the younger business men, though several of the veteran Manassans are on its rolls. Everything about it is bright and sparkling—from the shimmer of cut-glass on the sideboard to a fragment of Laura Keene's gaudy dress still stained with the blood of the "late lamented."

* * * * *

Mobile has a superb race course, and is the winter rendezvous of the most famous horses. At the express desire of Capt. Williamson, of the Magnolia House, we drove to see the kings and queens of the turf. Some forty or fifty of these were "breezed" before us, among which we specially noted Bayonet, Stonewall Jackson, Molly Ingersoll, Connolly and Gen. Ewell. Afterward Capt. Williamson summoned us to a magnificent repast of flesh, fish and fowl. Had we the space we should reek our soul upon expression and eulogise the unctuous trout, the rich chop and the incomparable chowder. Over our Spartan broth and bread we shall remember the feast and the feast giver. While such dainties were before us, we strove mightily to do them justice; now that they have taken visionary forms we may console ourselves with the reflection that they once were ours.

One-half at least of Mobile is outside of the city proper. Extending for seven miles along every road leading to Spring Hill, one meets with a constant succession of the most beautiful cottages bowered in exquisite foliage, principally evergreen. It is this rus in urbe, we fancy, that causes the Mobilian to retain a love of true sentiment in the midst of traffic or indolent enjoyment. Great masses of stone or brick must harden and materialize the mind; but the veriest Gradgrind would soften in the presence of luxuriant nature. In one of the most enchanting of these delicious retreats, it was meet that we should have found Mrs. Wilson, the author of "Beulah" and "St. Elmo." Seven terrible years had passed since last we met this highly gifted lady. She struck us as being much more pardlike and ethereal than in the days gone by. We fear that her lofty ambition and restless spirit of labor are wearing away the thin sheath of body which they inhabit. It is reported that another work from her pen has already been completed, and the MS. disposed of for $15,000. The reading world may therefore be on the lookout for a new sensation, for though the severer critics may find fault with Mrs. Wilson's oddities of style or idiosyncrasies of thought everybody reads her books. She is every way a most extraordinary woman, and dispenses the honors of her home with grace, affability and enthusiasm.

Not less remarkable in his way than Mrs. Wilson is Col. Jack Ingersoll, one of Mobile's best and richest men. No commercial venture of any importance is complete without him; no festal board can be a thorough success which marks his absence with a vacant chair. Present, he reigns like a generous monarch with regal brow and flashing eyes. Absent, we feel that something is lost to make the undertaking perfection. A civic Brutus—we cheer his statue in the procession and think but of him if it happen to be missed. Col. Ingersoll's abiding scheme is to build up a great trade between Mobile and Fernandina, in view of the important interests clustering about Florida and the route to Tehuantepec. He was foremost in making the Press Convention happy and comfortable, and sacrificed his business, his time and his means to further this end. Success to him and his say we!

* * * * *

Last but not least, we are called upon to speak of the Mobile Press. From a perusal of his editorials, we were led to believe that Eggleston, of the Tribune was a giant in armor who perambulated the streets and mercilessly crushed the carpet-baggers and scalawags under his feet. However trenchant and remorseless as a writer, he is one of the mildest and kindest of human beings. He was untiring in his efforts to make us feel at home, and we know that beneath the rugged exterior of Jack Eggleston there beats a "bold spirit in a loyal breast." Not a trooly loil breast, observe. He hates a cheat and is not over nice in exposing it; otherwise, he is an original and strong writer, if he does call a spade a spade.

Mr. McGuire, his coadjutor, was exceedingly serviceable to us, and cheerfully taxed his powers to serve our interests.

Col. John Forsyth, editor of the Register, is known everywhere as the Bayard of the Southern Press. To him we all look up with the reverence and respect due his laurels. "He won them well, and may he wear them long." We had known him as an editorial monarch before; we now know him as the lord of one of the most charming households in the land. Upon the threshold of that delightful home we stop. Suffice it that we are at a loss to say in which capacity we most honor our Mobile chief; or rather, language fails to express how much we venerate him in his double capacity as best of editors and best of friends.

Years ago, when both of us were callow school boys, the writer of this had the happiness of playing marbles and capping verses with the managing editor of the Register—T. C. DeLeon. Compiler of rhymes, a clever poet on his own hook, a translator of French fiction, and writer of all kinds of English prose, Col. DeLeon is at home wherever pen and paper can be found. If pen and paper are in the vocative, a rusty nail and a white wall will do as well. At one time we hear of him negotiating for the Board of Trade with Western railroads; at another time leading the "German" at the Battle House hops. He is the man who started the Cuba sensation, and gold for cotton movement. Previous to these bursts, he had, at a sitting, penetrated the mysteries of the Ku-Klux Klan, and sold in one day 17,000 pamphlet revelations to just as many gulls. He has been in Mobile but six months, and can identify every brick and diagnose every oyster shell. The oldest inhabitant goes to him for instruction in antiquities, and the Russian gymnast, Pfau, had hints from him concerning the flying trapeze. What DeLeon does not know is not worth knowing, and what he cannot do by strategy is not worth attempting by force. He would not hesitate to dispute with Albert Stein about the navigation of the Appomattox river, and, if needs be, trepan the skull of a "man and a brother" in the absence of a regular surgeon. Ready, available, quick-witted, accomplished, rapid, brilliant—such is Cooper DeLeon. His versatile talents and warm affections were never more lavishly displayed than when the Press members met at Mobile and he wore himself to a specter in their service. He was invaluable, and we all recognize the fact. It will not do to wish that his shadow may never grow less, for it is not in the memory of man that he ever cast a shadow; but if good luck should desert him at last to that he miss the leap into highest heaven, we, the petitioners, pray that he may glide like a sprite into the paradise of Mahomet.

Important Decision in Insurance.

A recent suit against an insurance company before the Supreme Court of Missouri led to a decision of wide interest. The company resisted payment of a loss on the ground that the application for the policy did not give accurate answers to questions concerning the character of the title to the property. The holder of the policy responded with proof that he had made a frank and full statement of the facts to the company's agent when he was soliciting the insurance, and that after this statement the agent, saying it made no difference, filled in the inaccurate answers in the application. The court held the company responsible for this action of its agent, and required the payment of the loss. The principle thus established is of wide application, especially in life insurance companies, whose agents are often tempted to slur over doubtful circumstances concerning the health or antecedents of applicants in order to secure the issue of the policies.—New York Tribune.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 9, 1869

THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY NAVIGATION COMPANY.

We congratulate Capt. DeHAVEN upon the success he has so far achieved in this enterprise. The subsidy of $100,000 from the State of Louisiana seals it a fixed fact, and will have much to do in enhancing it in the esteem of capitalists abroad. We hope so generous and well deserved a recognition of merit will not pass unobserved by our merchants and steamboatmen. All should contribute a mite, either in land or money, and enable the Captain to hasten the construction of his magnificent steamboat. He is now in the city, and will be for a few days, to afford an opportunity to those who desire to make subscriptions of stock.

THE LATE MAJOR FEE.

WE learn with deep sorrow and regret of the death of Maj. GEORGE D. FEE, of Oxford, the Grand High Priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of the State of Mississippi. The Vicksburg Times says: He was attacked by jaundice a few days since, and died suddenly at his residence, at midnight on the 3d inst. He was a pure and lovely man, warm and generous in his feelings, of excellent business capacity, and passed through an active life with the affection, respect and confidence of all who knew him. He was a bright, enthusiastic, just and upright Freemason; learned in its ritual, its laws, its historical teachings, and the great symbolism of the Order. At the time of his death, he was the second officer in Kilwinning Lodge of Perfection, Ancient and Accepted Rite, at Oxford.

THE METROPOLITAN POLICE IN MISSISSIPPI.

Mr. PEARNE, Chief Commissioner of Police, is responsible for as gross a violation of inter-State comity as has ever fallen under our notice. Without any warrant of law, on Sunday last, he ordered Sergeant BROWN and acting Sergeant FINCH, of the city police force, to accompany Captain HAYNES, of the Arkansas militia, to Horn Lake, Miss., and there arrest one CUB HARLAN, a refugee from Arkansas. In an effort to perform the unlawful duty to which they were assigned, one of the policemen was wounded by HARLAN so that he died in a few hours afterward. PEARNE is justly responsible for this fatality, and were the times less out of joint would be held to a strict accountability. We hope that steps will promptly be taken by the other Commissioners to lay the matter before Governor SENTER, and, if possible, have a man so dangerous to the peace of this and neighboring communities removed.

THE NEW SPEAKER.

JAMES G. BLAINE, of Maine, who was a few days ago elected Speaker of the House of Representatives, is a Republican of the moderate stripe, personally very popular with both sides, and considered one of the best informed men in regard to Parliamentary usage in the present Congress. He is a resident of Augusta, Me., and represents the Third Congressional District of that State, comprising the counties of Kennebec, Lincoln, Somerset, and half of Knox. He was born in Washington county, Pennsylvania, January 31, 1830; graduated at Washington College, Pennsylvania; adopted the editorial profession and went to Maine, where he edited the Portland Advertiser and the Kennebec Journal; was a member of the Maine Legislature in 1859, 1860, 1861 and 1862, serving the last two years as Speaker of the House; was elected to the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Congresses, and was re-elected to the Fortieth Congress as a Union Republican, receiving 14,909 votes, against 8318 for HEATH, Democrat, and again re-elected a member of the present Forty-first Congress by a heavy majority. He is the twenty-sixth Speaker in succession.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT.

ART. XV. The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

SEC. 2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

Already this amendment has received the endorsement of Nebraska, Nevada and Illinois. Indiana, by the adroit management of the Democratic members, all of whom resigned and have gone home, cannot pass upon it until the next session of its Legislature. Our own Legislature, having adjourned, it cannot therefore be passed upon by us until next fall. Much opposition is manifested to it in Republican quarters, but it is thought that since GRANT has pronounced for it all that will be overcome, and the odious and usurping act of an usurping Congress be engrafted upon the organic law by the consent of the desired two-thirds of the States. Yet we hope the Democratic party, following the example of the legislators of Indiana, will everywhere endeavor to defeat it. The people should be thoroughly aroused to the enormity of a measure the final adoption of which by them will seal the doom of State rights, and pave the way for a disruption of our system of Government.

THE APPROACHING CONVENTION.

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday, to make arrangements for the Commercial Convention, to be held here, commencing on the 19th of May, was largely attended, and characterized by a spirit in every sense most promising for success and the maintenance of our renown for hospitality. Committees of Conference, with the city authorities, were appointed, and the necessary preliminary steps taken for full and ample arrangements. We expect our Railroad men shortly to take steps for the issuance of half-fare and excursion tickets, and that our packet lines, with their usual liberality, will place boats at the disposal of the Chamber for one or more excursions up and down our magnificent inland sea. Our hotels are prepared for any number of guests, and the citizens generally are disposed to expend the most generous efforts to make the occasion the most memorable in the history of our city. We feel satisfied the affair is in the right hands, and that from ex President JOHNSON through to the end of the long list of worthies, the people of Memphis will be confronted with all that is illustrious, statesmanlike or business-like in the men of the South and Southwest.

THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER RAILROAD.

Every day, this popular road assumes before the country still greater proportions. It is the subject of discussion and of excited competition, both north and south of us, and the most important trunk roads of the nation are at work to secure a connection with it.

This is a cheering fact to Memphis. The Mississippi River Railroad is peculiarly the favorite and friend of our young city. It was this road that appeared opportunely on the scene of action, when the supremacy of Memphis, as the commercial center of the Mississippi Valley, was threatened by the Mississippi Central Railroad, and by its bold defiance of that unfriendly corporation restored the confidence of our people in the great future of our city.

A very lively interest has sprung up at Cairo, Ill., to have that city made the northern terminus of the Mississippi River Railroad. The Cairo Bulletin, while pressing the wishes of Cairo in this regard, republishes the following letter of Mr. MITCHELL, recently addressed to a Louisiana Senator:

MEMPHIS, TENN., February 23, 1869.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, New Orleans:

Dear Sir: I saw lately a report of legislative proceedings in a New Orleans paper, from which it appeared that you are about to introduce a bill to charter the New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Vicksburg Railroad Company. If you have introduced such a bill I would like to know who are the corporators, and what individuals are specially interesting themselves in the attempt to build said road.

I am President of the Mississippi River Railroad, a road proposed to be built from Memphis to Cairo, through the river counties. In connection with other parties (some in Mississippi) I have recently obtained a charter from the Tennessee Legislature for a railroad to be built from Memphis to Vicksburg, through the river counties. Thus you see we will have a through line from Cairo to Vicksburg, and would like to connect with your New Orleans and Vicksburg road.

We shall have the gauge of the roads north of the Ohio river (four feet eight and a half inches) so that loaded cars may be run from St. Louis, Chicago, New York and Philadelphia through to Memphis and Vicksburg, and vice versa. This is a matter of vast importance, and you should ask in your New York and Vicksburg charter for permission to adopt the guage of any connecting road at Vicksburg.

If you will see that this letter is put into the hands of interested parties at New Orleans, you will greatly oblige me.

Respectfully, A. S. MITCHELL.

P. S.—I shall commence building the Memphis and Cairo Railroad in about sixty days. We have about $2,000,000 worth of stock and available means. Memphis will subscribe liberally to the Memphis and Vicksburg Railroad.

Upon this letter the Bulletin comments as follows:

> It will afford the friends of Cairo peculiar pleasure, indicating as it does, that this city has been determined upon as the northern terminus of the Mississippi river railway. President Mitchell speaks of the road as one from Memphis to Cairo, and the "Memphis and Cairo railroad," in unqualified terms. His language leaves no room for further uncertainty; the Mississippi river railway will have its termini at Memphis and Cairo.
>
> The roads chartered from Memphis to Vicksburg, and thence to New Orleans, taken in connection with the Cairo and Memphis road, the Cairo and Vincennes and Vincennes and Indianapolis, present one of the grandest railroad schemes ever conceived in the United States. * * * * *
> We have every confidence in the early completion of this road. Col. Mitchell's quiet and eminently successful management, and the friendly interest manifested by the people concerned, point unmistakably to such a result.

The confidence of the Bulletin in the energetic prosecution of the Mississippi River Railroad, and the speedy realization of its grand future is well grounded. But we are not quite assured it is right in assuming that Cairo has been "determined upon as the northern terminus of the road." In writing to Mr. THOMPSON it might have been Mr. MITCHELL'S purpose simply to generalize in regard to his road, to speak of it as a road stretching the entire length of the Mississippi valley, which for clearness Cairo might be assumed as a point. But if Paducah or Metropolis could offer a better crossing of the Ohio river, and substantially accomplish the purpose of a north and south road through the Mississippi valley, they could fairly compete with Cairo for the line of the road. But it would have been clearly out of place for Mr. MITCHELL to have presented or discussed these probabilities in his letter to Mr. THOMPSON.

We entirely concur with the Bulletin that the scope of the Mississippi River Railroad, with its Northern connections, extending from St. Louis to New York, and its Southern connections extending from Vicksburg to Shreveport and New Orleans, "presents one of the grandest railroad schemes ever conceived in the United States." Mr. MITCHELL'S letter to Mr. THOMPSON, giving a glimpse of his plans, shows that he has measured this "grand scheme" for himself, and that he has never needed any railroad education from the "ring." It is not in accordance with his usual prudence to commit himself in haste to any definite terminus. If, however, Cairo wishes to be that terminus, she knows how to go about securing it, and should not delay her most liberal overtures.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[From the Baltimore Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 5.

The nominations of the members of the new Cabinet took everybody by surprise, as a different cast, with the exception of two names, had previously been circulated at the Capitol. Various persons were seen in the passage ways, in the rotundas and in front of the principal doors of the Senate writing them down at the dictation of those who had first learned the news, while excited groups discussed the merits of the Cabinet. The question, "What was thought of it?" was repeatedly asked, and a contrariety of opinion expressed. The general opinion was that the appointments possessed little, if any, political significance, and there were general inquiries as to several of the members, who were unknown to the questioners. Not a few Congressmen expressed their disappointment, expecting other persons to be designated. Information of the appointments having been brought to the House and first made known on the Republican side, so much confusion was caused as to interfere with the business before that body. Some one said the Cabinet occasioned the excitement, and several gentlemen impatiently called for the reading of the names, in order to gratify their own and the general curiosity. Mr. Woodward, of Pennsylvania, who was on the floor, voluntarily suspended his remarks for the names to be read. Mr. McPherson, the Clerk of the House, then read the names from the desk, everybody listening with close attention. The excitement was renewed, in the midst of which a recess of five minutes was declared.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

The mountain has brought forth a ridiculous mouse, to the great amusement of some and to the disgust of many. Grave Senators did not hesitate to laugh outright when the seal of the important package was broken to-day and the names of the new Cabinet were for the first time announced to the world. A leading Radical Senator from the land of steady habits severely remarked that it was no longer a matter of surprise to him that the names of the Cabinet should be kept a secret so profound by Gen. Grant, the surprise now being that he ventured to make such a selection known at all. Everybody expresses surprise and disappointment, and many of the Radicals profess great indignation. Although Mr. Stewart's name had been mentioned in connection with the Treasury Department, they deny that any one had seriously contemplated his appointment to the position, as a successful career in speculating in dry goods does not necessarily fit a man to manage the financial affairs and control the currency of a nation. Outside of his mercantile operations Mr. Stewart has no standing whatever; but with an overgrown fortune he is ambitious of position, and this he has secured—how it is needless to inquire.

The selection of Washburne for the State Department caused frequent reference about the Capitol to-day to the old simile of "a bull in a china shop." Because a man's mental calibre and peculiar organization fitted him to watch the appropriation bills in Congress, and object to doing justice to private citizens, the same man is not necessarily a statesman fitted to manage the foreign affairs of a great nation.

When the name of Adolph E. Borie, of Pennsylvania, was read out for Secretary of the Navy, the inquiry ran around the Senate, "Who is Mr. Borie!" No one seemed able to give the required information. And when the name of Samuel T. Hoar, of Massachusetts, was reached, Senators Sumner and Wilson, from Mr. Hoar's own State, laughed aloud, in violation of all parliamentary decorum.

But President Grant has given the South a representative in his Cabinet, and that is a mark of his favor which even the Southern Senators and Representatives in Congress had hardly dared to hope for, although they had sought it most diligently. But such a representative! The ultra Radicals profess to be much amused at this recognition of the South, and express a surprise that the choice had not fallen upon Gov. Brownlow, of Tennessee, as they say between Creswell and Brownlow the latter would have been preferred. The only Cabinet appointment which appears not to excite surprise is that of Jacob D. Cox, of Ohio, who was a Major-General in the Army of the Potomac, and to whom President Johnson at one time tendered the War Department as a compromise with the United States Senate.

By Telegraph

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—At a caucus of the Republican Senators this morning they agreed upon the standing committees to be reported for the approval of that body.

The subject of the Secretary of the Treasury was mentioned in the caucus, but was laid over, it being understood that the President will withdraw his recommendation of the repeal or amendment of the Treasury law, in which case Stewart will necessarily retire from the position, as the caucus shows that if brought to a vote Congress would overwhelmingly refuse to pass the proposed measure of relief.

The report that the bill providing for the grant of lands to the Denver Pacific Railroad had not been signed by President Johnson is a mistake. It is now a law.

It is rumored about the Capitol that Hoar is expected to resign, thus making way for the appointment of Boutwell, and calculating on the withdrawal of Stewart, and the appointment of Lyman Fremaine as Attorney General is also mentioned. There is much excitement and interest everywhere concerning the Cabinet.

The applications for positions under the Government received at the Executive office are already overwhelming, and in all cases it may be stated that they must be made to the cabinet officer in charge of the department in which the office is solicited. The President will not consider any such applications until they have passed through the head of the department to which they pertain.

The President will receive official calls at his office each day between 10 and 12 o'clock, and after 12 o'clock no one will be admitted except cabinet officers, and those with whom special engagements have been made.

The cabinet meetings will be held at 12 o'clock on Tuesdays and Fridays. On Tuesdays the President's office will be thrown open to general visitors between 10 and 12 o'clock.

The friends of John A. Griswold, of New York, anticipating a change in the Cabinet list, are urgently pressing him for Secretary of the Navy.

Gen. Sherman will give up the building used at present as headquarters of the army, and take possession of rooms in the War Department at the earliest practicable moment.

Mr. Stewart has not retired, and the statement is made on good authority that he has been throughout in full accord with Grant, and that it has been distinctly understood between them that he will not allow himself or his appointment to embarrass Grant in the slightest degree, and if it shall be found inexpedient by Congress to relieve Stewart, it is understood that he will withdraw. Mr. Stewart will not recede if he can accommodate his extensive business connections so as to obviate the difficulty, and in this view he has offered to make an absolute transfer and disposition of all profits and interest which may be derived from his business, while he remains in office. The transfer is to be made to three eminent gentlemen, as trustees, who shall have the disposal of the profits and revenues for the use of public charity in the city of New York. The Trustees are to select the charities, and to be vested with absolute power and control in the matter, and Mr. Stewart is thereby to divest himself of any interest whatever in the business.

The number of office-seekers has increased. Hundreds were crowded at the Capitol to-day. Cards were continually being sent into the Senate to call Republican members out, and when that body adjourned, the applicants rushed into the chamber to press their business on the attention of the Senators. Apart from such proceedings, efforts are being made by subordinates in the various Departments to procure a Bureau, or other higher positions, in anticipation of removals.

Jas. M. Brinkley has been removed from the Internal Revenue Department.

Mr. Washburne was at the State Department to-day, and was visited by a large number of the members of Congress. Official notification of his acceptance of the State Secretaryship has been forwarded to each member of the Diplomatic Corps.

Augusta and Bangor, Me., elected Republican Mayors, and Bedford a Democrat.

SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Arizonia advices report two severe engagements with the Indians, who lost eight killed and several wounded.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, March 8.—Arrived—Emma No. 3, and Sam. J. Hale. The river is falling with 13 feet in the channel.

ST. LOUIS, March 8.—Arrived—Stonewall, Lizzie Gill and Luminary. Departed—Belle St. Louis. The weather is wet.

LOUISVILLE, March 8.—The river is falling with 6 feet in the canal.

NEW ORLEANS, March 8.—Arrived—Mollie Able, Mary Houston and Louisiana. Departed—W. R. Arthur.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The Herald advocates the repeal of the law compelling a man to give up business in order to be eligible to the office of Secretary of the Treasury. The law, as it stands, is an obsolete one, and has been raked up by Treasury leeches, who feel that Stewart knows them too well, and the sharpers are determined to make a bold fight for the retention of their offices and plunders. It is not wise for any faction in Congress to make a stand against the administration on this point. If they do, the President will do well to make a bold fight of it. If he does, he will win; for the people—the sensible people of all parties—will be with him, and because common sense and republicanism are to rule for the next four years.

HAVANA.

HAVANA, March 8.—The Government has made public the official dispatches giving the details of the advance of Gen. Lisca from Laguanagula to Puerto Principe. On this march the heaviest engagement since the beginning of the rebellion was fought. Gen. Lisca found the enemy, to the number of 4000, strongly intrenched on the Sierra de Cobetas. The artillery was brought up, and commenced a vigorous fire upon the works. A column of regular troops, 1500 strong, attacked the enemy's works with bayonets. Both sides fought with determination, and the havoc was fearful. Gen. Lisca reports his loss at thirty-one killed and eighty wounded.

The loss of the rebels is estimated at upwards of 1000 in killed and wounded. The Government accounts claim a victory for Gen. Lisca, and assert that the insurgents are much disheartened by their defeat.

A detachment which left Puerto Principe for Santa Cruz to obtain the supplies brought to that port by the fleet, returned on the 2nd with provisions and ammunition, having made the march both ways without interruption.

The entire available strength of the rebel forces under Guessada is estimated at 7000.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—A special to the Telegraph says that in a conversation with Mr. Blaine the President replied, that as Speaker of the House, and under the circumstances, he had a right to know, he would therefore be frank, and say to him that Mr. Stewart had concluded to resign; and that the Massachusetts delegation would withdraw Mr. Hoar, at the latter's request; and that he would appoint Ex-Gov. Boutwell as Secretary of the Treasury.

TERRIBLE RENCONTER.

Another of Clayton's Requisitions, and What it Cost.

Death of S'gt. Finch, of First District Police.

Full Particulars of the Horn Lake Tragedy.

Wild rumors were in circulation on the streets yesterday morning to the effect that a Sergeant of police and Colonel of Arkansas militia had been killed in attempting to arrest a notorious individual known around Memphis and in Crittenden county, Ark., as "Cub" Harlan. Also that Harlan had been shot in trying to make his escape. On making inquiries at heaquarters of the police we learned the following facts, which though not quite so tragic as the rumor, are sufficiently bloody to create an excitement even in Memphis:

For some time past Harlan, who is an outlaw of the worst description, has been wanted by the police on several charges, one of them being complicity with the murder of Dr. Ramsay, which occurred some two years ago. For some reason or other they have never been able to lay hands on him in the manner in which they wished, he always keeping himself out of their legal reach. For the past several months, up to the breaking out of the militia troubles in Marion, he remained over there, but after the arrest of Maj. Harney, McAllister and Ticer, he disappeared from that neighborhood, and was sometimes seen around Memphis, keeping very quiet and close. About the time of the arrest of Maj. Earle he left here and nothing further was heard of him until Saturday, when he was reported as being down at Horn Lake, Miss., stopping at the house of a Mr. Jenkins.

In the meantime a requisition from Clayton had come here for him, and was in the hands of a Capt. Haynes, of the gallant militia, who, immediately on learning his whereabouts, solicited the aid of the Metropolitan Police to capture him. Sergeant Brown and Acting Sergeant Finch, of the First District, were detailed to assist him in making the arrest, and the trio set out on Sunday morning, mounted and heavily armed with navy repeaters.

On arriving at the house, there being no signs of life about, the party hitched their horses at the fence, and after rapping and receiving no answer, Sergeant Brown and Haynes entered the house, Finch going around the back way to a side door. The outer door opened into a hall, from which doors opened into rooms on each side. Hearing voices in one of these, without knocking, they opened the door and entered, Sergeant Brown going in first, followed by Capt. Haynes.

They found a party of four or five men seated around the fire, among them the man they were looking for. He, it appears, was looking for them also, and before they could say a word "Cub" was up and on them. According to Sergeant Brown's statement he fired a shot at him (the sergeant) when within only five feet of him, but fortunately the ball missed its aim and lodged in the lintel of the door. All of the others having arisen, and the officers fearing that they would be overpowered, they retreated to the hall and thence outside to the porch. "Cub," meanwhile, and a companion named Smith, also an Arkansas refugee, made their exit through a side door, where they were confronted by Sergeant Finch, who fired at "Cub" as soon as he made his appearance, and in return was fired at and shot through the body, the ball entering the right breast above the nipple and coming out under the shoulder blade. Finch's shot, although at such close quarters, we have every reason to believe was harmless.

A struggle then ensued between "Cub" and Smith on the one side, and Haynes, Brown and Finch on the other, which was so mixed up that we have been unable to obtain the straight of the story, and consequently will only give the result, which was the wounding of Capt. Haynes in the thigh, in two places, and the final escape of both "Cub" and Smith, who, after emptying their revolvers, broke away, and crossing a little ravine got safely into a canebrake on the other side.

Finch nor Haynes knew they were shot until the firing ceased, when the former fell fainting from the loss of blood into the arms of his companions, and was carried in the house and put to bed, the landlord, Mr. Jenkins, and family doing everything in their power to alleviate his sufferings.

The nearest physician, Dr. Bynum, being sent for, attended immediately, and pronounced the wound of Finch of the most dangerous and serious character, but those of Capt. Haynes as comparatively slight. As soon as Sergeant Brown and the Captain learned these facts they started for town, where they arrived about half-past six or seven o'clock and reported to Col. Burditt—the Reverend Superintendent being out at Cuba Station holding a prayer-meeting.

Col. Burditt immediately went to Dr. Lynch and made arrangements for him to go out to see the wounded man. The doctor and some mounted police went out early yesterday morning, and on arriving found Finch very far gone. He had never been turned in his bed since being laid in it, and the mattress was saturated with blood. On examining the wounded man the doctor discovered what was not known before, that he had been shot through and through in two places, either one being a mortal wound. On finding this state of affairs, Dr. Lynch felt it his duty to inform Finch that his hours and minutes were numbered, and if he had aught to say or do he had best do it.

Finch, on hearing this, made his arrangements for the great change with a composure and coolness truly admirable to behold, and worthy of a brave and noble spirit. He informed Dr. Lynch where his money and valuables were, and gave him some little trinkets and his watch to send to his relatives. His constant friend and room-mate has always been Sergeant Mooney, of the First District, and the only desire which the dying man expressed was to "see Mooney." He inquired frequently for him, and each time begged that he might be sent for. After suffering excruciating pains, about one o'clock p.m. yesterday, Finch fell into a quiet sleep, and at twenty minutes past two breathed his last.

The death of Finch adds another to the long list of those of our Metropolitan Police who have been slain in the discharge of duty. What makes this affair the more lamentable, however, is the fact that Finch was slain in carrying out an illegal order, and in such a manner that the man who killed him can never be punished for it. Of course Finch had no alternative but to obey the orders of the Superintendent of Police; but what right, or what color of authority, had that individual to order the police of the city of Memphis into Mississippi to make an arrest? None under heaven, and he can and would be legally prosecuted therefor if law and order were not so completely subverted. He alone is legally and morally responsible for the death of Finch, and we hope his relatives and friends will prosecute this reverend Jackanapes to the bitter end for his criminal ignorance—or, something worse. We are informed that he alone of all the commissioners is responsible for the order—the others, or at least Col. Burditt, not having been consulted in the matter, and Pearne knowing that they were bitterly opposed to such action.

A box was sent out at daylight this morning for the remains of Finch and they will be embalmed and sent home to his parents in Ohio. He was a good and faithful officer and a brave man, worthy of a better fate.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Commercial Convention to Meet in May.

Appointment of Committees to Arrange Preliminaries.

Ex-President Johnson to be Present.

The Customhouse Question.

Congress to be Memorialized.

The Chamber of Commerce held an adjourned meeting yesterday afternoon. Mr. W. H. Cherry, the President, occupied the Chair and stated the object of the meeting to be to hear the report of a committee appointed at the last meeting to obtain the sense of our citizens on the subject of the proposed Commercial Convention, which is to meet in this city at such time as may be decided on.

Mr. Mray, as Chairman from the Committee, submitted the following report:

The undersigned, a committee appointed at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, on the 22d ultimo, to confer with our citizens touching the most suitable time for the assembling of the Commercial Convention, beg leave to report that they have discharged the duty assigned them, and suggest Wednesday, the 19th of May as an appropriate day.

L. S. MARYE,
JOSEPH LENOW,
W. M. FARRINGTON,
J. P. TREZEVANT,
J. T. SWAYNE.

Adopted.

Resolved, etc., That a special committee of three, with the Honorable Mayor, be appointed to confer with the Chamber of Commerce with regard to the reception of delegates to the convention soon to assemble here, pursuant to adjournment, from Norfolk, Va., last fall.

He stated that he, in conjunction with Messrs. Durff and Renner, were ready to take action in accordance with the resolution.

Judge Swayne said that much interest was felt in the proposed Convention. He learned through a friend from Washington that ex President Johnson and other retired officials of prominent influence had expressed a desire and determination to be present. Many persons of reputation, prominence and influence would come to Memphis on the occasion, and he hoped our people will make suitable arrangements for them, as their impression of our city will be reported throughout the country after the convention adjourns, and we should therefore act in a becoming manner toward them. The Common Council is ready to do their share, in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce and the citizens, in regard to the Convention.

Mr. H. Dow offered the following:

Resolved, That the President of the Chamber of Commerce, with the acting Mayor, and Capt. Joseph Lenow, appoint the necessary committees of arrangement from the Chamber of Commerce, the members of the Common Council, and the citizens, to arrange all preliminaries for the convention.

Carried unanimously.

The Chamber then resolved itself into a body for the transaction of regular business, and Mr. Everitt said that it is important that we have a Customhouse established here. Influences are at work which will make it necessary for every power to be brought forward to accomplish the object. The amount of foreign goods imported into this city at present is not large, but Memphis is growing, and must have increased facilities for the transaction of increasing business. The customhouse question is of very great importance, as much so as anything, not excepting the proposed Commercial Convention, however important that is. Other Western cities are pressing every possible influence and using every method to secure the same object, and Memphis should not be behind any of them. Mr. McCullough, the late Secretary of the Treasury, had said the subject is not one for legislation. But he thought different, and that goods should be imported from foreign countries and landed here before the duties are required to be paid. The city of Memphis should arouse herself, and put forward every means to secure a customhouse, and every man, woman and child of her citizens should sign a memorial to Congress to grant the privilege. It will do more for the future welfare and interest of the city than any one thing that can be established. He thought we should do something practical towards memorializing Congress on the subject.

Mr. Farrington offered the following:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to prepare a memorial to Congress to urge the claims of Memphis for a customhouse, and that they solicit the names of our citizens to the petition before presenting it to that body. Carried.

The President said he would appoint the committee and report their names at the next regular meeting. The Chamber then adjourned.

CRIMINAL INTELLIGENCE.

—Seven arrests in the First and six in the Second District up to eight o'clock.

—M. Sturdevant is charged by a negro with having made way with four bales of cotton belonging to him. The case was tried before 'Squire Millard and Sturdevant discharged.

—About dark yesterday evening, a negro went into App's shoe store, near the APPEAL office, on Jefferson street, and stole a pair of shoes. He was seen and pursued by Mr. App, who fired a shot at him. This called a policeman, who also fired three shots at the fleeing thief, but he got off safe with his plunder.

—J. L. Ford claims that he left a sole leather trunk and clothing to the value of $400 at the house of a Mrs. White, on Second street, opposite Cayce's auction mart, some time since, and when he returned to claim them she refused to give them up, protesting that he had taken them away. The matter was put in the hands of the police, and will be settled to-day.

—Tom Downey, Abe Kendrick, Eli McNeil and Fountain Walker, all negroes, were arrested and lodged in the Second District stationhouse to answer to the charges brought against them by Mr. Carroway, whom they shot at President's Island on Saturday last. A countercharge was made against Carroway and K. G. Martin, of arson, by the above negroes. The latter gave bonds, and the case will come up before 'Squire Griffith to day.

—Officer Cullen—who, by the way, is one of the most faithful, upright and gentlemanly men on the whole force—yesterday saw two notorious rascals, known as Brocky Burns and Brady, following an old man named Vernoud, who it appears was a little intoxicated. Cullen, knowing they were up to no good, followed them, and soon caught them trying to garrote the poor old fellow, and he pounced on them just in time to save him. He managed to secure Brocky, but Brady got away. The old man was also carried down to the station, to be taken care of. He had on his person nearly seventy dollars.

CROWDED OUT.—A notice of the St. Louis Mutual and two or three other advertisements are unavoidably crowded out of this issue. They will appear to-morrow.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.

A Man Found in Articulo Mortis.

Startling Affair in Paris, Tenn.

The Paris Intelligencer of Saturday, 6th inst., has the following:

Yesterday morning, a colored man by the name of John Bailey, the engineer of White's factory, found a man in the road, a mile east of this place, apparently in great agony and entirely insensible. Help was called, and the unfortunate man carried to a house near by, where every attention required by his condition was given him, but all to no purpose; he died a short time afterwards.

Notice of these facts was duly given to the Coroner, who summoned a jury and proceeded to give this mysterious affair a thorough investigation. But the investigation failed to discover any evidence indicating that the deceased had come to his death by violent usage. There were no bruises or marks on his body, other than two, both small scratches, one on his foot the other on his ankle. It is the opinion of the jury that these were caused either by a tight shoe or by the abrasion of the ground during his strugglings. In the absence of any apparent cause, other than the coldness of the weather, the verdict of the jury declared that death had been caused by exposure occasioned by sudden illness and consequent inability on the part of the deceased to take care of himself. It may be proper here to state, that the deceased, before leaving town, told several gentlemen whose acquaintance he made, that he had been having chills—was in feeble health—but notwithstanding this fact, he is known to have eaten a half pound of cheese, and crackers in proportion, before setting out on his journey. The physicians are therefore of the opinion that the deceased was seized by a sudden attack of cholic, which rendered him unable to get to a house. As the deceased was met by some one a short distance from town about dusk and showed no signs of intoxication, the facts will admit of no other construction than that placed upon them.

From papers found on the person of the dead man, it appears his name was John F. Miller, was formerly a citizen of New York and more recently of Fulton Station, Ky. He informed Dr. T. Tayloe that he was a dentist by profession and that he was en route to Smith county, in this State. He had letters corroborating this statement.

Only twenty-five cents in fractional currency being found in his possession, he was given a decent burial at the public expense.

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MEMPHIS.—Miss Fannie Price appeared in her great role of "Helen Roleston," in the great sensational drama of Foul Play, before a good audience last night. We were only present a moment, and can only reiterate what has been said by our cotemporaries abroad, from hear say. "She is grand," is the verdict of each.

THE PANORAMA.—In spite of the weather, hundreds, yesterday, took a flying trip to New York via the new Assembly Hall. Bullard's Panorama is great, and everybody ought to see it. Go by all means. Two performances daily.

THE GAIETY.—Several new stars commenced their engagements last night at this popular place of resort, and were exceedingly well received. Mansgar Etley, we are sorry to say, is lying quite ill at his hotel. We hope he may be out soon again, as "Jake" is the life and soul of things. A most stunning bill is the order of the week.

VARIETIES.—Several of the old stock have been gotten rid of by Manager Broom, and their places supplied with new and fresh importations. The change cannot but be beneficial to his theater and satisfactory to his visitors. An entirely new change of programme this week.

PISTOLS AND COFFEE.—We learned on Sunday night late, that a pleasant little fete champetre was on the tapis, to come off yesterday morning on the classic shores of Arkansas, in the shape of a regular old fashioned duel. We were delighted. Visions of a column or so of our usual flowing style of matter, when writing up a choice morceau in the shape of "blood and thunder" sensation, a murder, rape or something of that sort, floating through our minds. We were up early yesterday morning—very early, in fact almost in time to get breakfast at the Peabody Hotel, on the qui vive to find out whether blood had been spilled, or whether it was "amicably arranged." No news could be learned, although we asked everybody if they had heard of the duel. The day was passed in feverish anxiety. The Horn Lake tragedy was balm to our perturbed souls, but after writing it out we again went on the war path hunting for the duel. No news was obtained until nine o'clock p.m., when we learned that there had been an amicable adjustment. Oh, shucks! was the comment. The idea of two men coming two hundred miles to fight, and keeping three or four reporters on tip toe of excitement for a whole day and then "amicably adjust." Bah! It's disgusting! Though perhaps it is better thus.

STATE NEWS.

Karl von Kaminitz

is the name of a most unmannerly dog and outrageous reprobate, whom Mose Parrish of the Bolivar Bulletin goes for in a style peculiarly Mose's own. We cheerfully help to pass the "Count" around, and warn everybody against him.

Accidental Shooting.

Under this head our friend Beers, of the Brownsville Bee, gets off the following: It becomes our painful duty to chronicle the shooting of a young man of our town on Tuesday last. It appears, as near as we can get the facts, that two young gentlemen were sitting in the store of Mr. Booker engaged in conversation, when one of them, a young man by the name of Wren, drew from his pocket a big, ugly, deadly Colt's five-inch repeater, and commenced playing with it when it went off, the ball grazing the other, Mr. Wills' head, producing an immediate and dreadful—scare to both parties.

Frightful Tragedy.

The Brownsville Bee learns that on Wednesday evening, the 24th ult., a gentleman named Goings, residing near State Line, Ky., (M. & O. R. R.,) was foully murdered by a man named Moore. They had been disputing about some corn, and Goings was sitting on the fence. Moore rode up to him on horse back, and suddenly stabbed him in the neck, nearly severing his head from the body. He then dismounted and stabbed him several times in the breast. Mrs. G. ran to Dr. Alexander's for assistance, but returning found her husband dead. The murderer fled, and at last accounts had not been arrested.

Agricultural.

The Paris Intelligencer of Saturday says: "At a meeting of the Directory of the Henry County Agricultural Society, several measures of public interest came up for discussion and were disposed of. The one possessing more interest than another, perhaps, was the time for having our next annual Fair. The suggestion was made, and unanimously concurred in, that it should commence on the first Wednesday in October and continue through the remainder of that week. That will be the time then, unless good grounds for a change arise. Details of arrangement and management were not touched on, or at least were not determined on. It was decided, however, that a committee of one or more should be appointed in each district, for the purpose of awakening a general interest throughout the county in behalf of the society and its objects, with a view of increasing the membership of the society."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Malarious Month.—March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders. Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds, and of that alternation of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses," is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellent power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be evaded. Nay, the trouble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar, as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy. In view of the experience of the nation with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems a most unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals (the old settlers know all about it), that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured; that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness and miasmatic fevers; that it prevents, as well as cures, these complaints and their complications; that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, }
MEMPHIS, March 8, 1869. }

FINANCE.

A full report of the meeting held to-day at the Chamber of Commerce will be found in our local columns.

The Exchange Market throughout the week has been working very close, and it has been only by mutual accommodations between bankers that the demand has been supplied without recourse to currency shipments. The almost total stagnation in the Cotton market has of course brought about this result. Rates have varied with the necessities of the buyer. While some banks retain their old rate of ⅛c discount, buying, others are anxious to purchase at ¼c discount. All are selling at ⅛c premium, with exceptions to regular customers at par. New Orleans bills are very scarce, and are taken at ⅛c discount. There is also a very light demand for them. Selling at par to ⅛c premium.

There is no movement in Stocks or Bonds. Brokers are in the market for all kinds of Southern Securities but no sellers.

City Scrip is quiet. Brokers buy at 75c and sell at 78 to 80c, as to amount.

Notwithstanding that many of our citizens think County Warrants should be stronger since the late election, we must consider them weaker. Dealers were shy to-day at 73c buying, selling at 76 to 78c.

Gold has been very much unsettled during the week, going down to 130. It opened to-day in New York at 132 and closed at 131½. Carrying at 3 per cent. Sterling Exchange dull at 108¾, for 60 day bills. A slight advance was reported in Gold at noon, in consequence of a rumor that Stewart had resigned and that Boutwell had been appointed Secretary of the Treasury, but it soon gave way again and declined as above.

The Stock market at the opening was steady, and at 11 a.m. was generally firm and active, and at the close was steady but less active.

Governments at the opening were unsettled, but were generally steady in tone at the noon call, and closed firmer with fair demand:

Pacific Sixes,	102 @102⅜

We have no large sales of Gold to report. Dealers buy at 130½@131, and sell at 132@132½.

The public debt statement, issued March 3d, shows the debt bearing coin interest to be $2,107,854,050; debt bearing currency interest, $71,140,000; matured debt, $6,422 463 64; debt bearing no interest, $421,578,850 50; Pacific railroad bonds issued $53,937,000; coin in Treasury, $98,741,260 72; currency in Treasury, $16,853,529 04; debt less cash in Treasury, $2,544,339,904 38; decrease in debt, $10,868,753.

The warrants issued by the Treasury Department during the month of February, to meet the requirements of the Government, amounted in round numbers to the following: Civil, miscellaneous and foreign intercourse, $3 448,200; interest on public debt, $2 206,700; War Department, $2,493,400; Navy, $1,028,000; Interior, pensions and Indians, $5,496,2000. Total, $14,657,500.

The Erie Railroad company, one of the richest corporations in the United States commenced doing its own express business on the 1st inst. If the express charges are reduced from the heretofore extortionate rates, it will be well if every company in the country follows the example of the Erie.

The Supreme Court of the United States decided last Thursday the case of Butler against Horwitz; a suit for ground rent in Baltimore, upon a contract made in 1791, for the annual payment of English golden guineas of a specified weight. The question before the court was this payment could be made, under the legal-tender act, in greenbacks, at the nominal or par value of the English money contracted for.

The Court decided that the contract had been made for gold coin, expressly to avoid such fluctuations in the currency of the country as had been frequent during the colonial period and the war for independence, and must be enforced according to its terms.

COTTON.

The staple has been unusually dull during the week, and prices have been somewhat irregular. The Liverpool market opened flat, with Middlings 11⅞d, and did not advance until Friday, when 12d was the ruling figure in that market, and again on Saturday it went up 1-16 ⅛d, and closed quiet to-day, with Uplands 12⅛d, Orleans 12⅜d. The New York market has been generally dull throughout, opening at 29c for Middlings, at which they remained until Saturday, when they were firmer and held at 29@29½c, and closing quiet but steady to-day as follows: Low Middlings 28½c., Uplands 29½c, Mobile 29¾, Orleans 30⅛, Good Middlings 30½c.

Our market has been very dull since the issue of our last Weekly, and sales have been so small that quotations could not be given with accuracy. Holders have been firm, however, asking 28½@28¾c for Middlings, and only in cases where lots have been forced off, have they sold at less. Indications to-day point to some activity, but so far we can learn of no orders upon the market and no inquiry of a speculative character. We quote nominally as follows:

Ordinary	25½@26
Good Ordinary	26½@27
Low Middlings	27½@27¾
Middlings	28¼@28½
Strict Middlings	29
Good Middlings	29½@30

TRADE.

Business during the week has not been at all what it should have been owing to the changeable weather and the dullness which has prevailed in Cotton. The receipts of the latter have fallen off largely, but the stock on hand is equally as large as at any time this season. Among the different branches of trade, probably the Dry Goods market has been least active. The stocks at our leading wholesale houses are excellent, and the receipts of leading spring goods have been heavy for the season. Prices are steady and what they will be in the future will of course depend upon the course of the raw material.

Boots and Shoes are firm. Already the market is well stocked with wear suitable for the season, but for some days the same influence governing other markets have exerted a depressing effect on this line of goods, and but few country merchants have been in town making selections. We are, in fact, between the seasons, and it could hardly be expected that the demand would be large. The news from the East is not favorable for a decline in prices, as manufacturers are holding light stocks and are mostly working upon orders.

The demand for Meats does not come up to the expectations of our merchants. One cause for this may be attributed to the fact that at least one section of country tributary to Memphis has put up enough, not only sufficient for its own wants, but has had some to spare. We allude to the White river country, from which large amounts of bulk meats have been shipped, this season, to New Orleans, and some of it has come to Memphis. This meat compares favorably in cure and quality with the meats arriving in bulk from any of the Northern packing points.

Choice APPLES are scarce and in fair demand. Selling at 6@$7 per bbl.

There is a better demand for BUTTER, and choice grades are scarce at 40 to 45c. Common to good dull at 25 to 35c.

There is no change in BEANS. Stock light. We quote mixed 2 to $3 per bushel; Navy, $3 50.

The PROVISION market is better supplied than at any time this season and prices are week. Mess Pork 33 50@33 75 Prime Mess 30 to $30 50. Extra Prime Pork 28 to $29 50. Rumps 27 50 to $28 50. Jowls 23 50 to $24 50. Clear bulk Sides 16¾ to 17¼c. Clear R b 16¼ to 16½c. Rib Sides 15¾ to 16c. Shoulders 13½ to 13¾c. A lot of clear sides on levee was offered at 16½c. Bacon, clear Sides 18 to 18½c. Shoulders 15 to 15½c. Plain country Hams 18c. S. C. plain 19 to 20c. Lard dull; tierces 20c, kegs 21 to 21½c.

In CHEESE there is no change—market firm. Factory 23 to 24c. E. D. 23 to 23½c. W. R. 22 to 23c.

The COFFEE market is weak and prices are tending downwards. We quote Ordinary 19 to 20c; Fair, 20 to 21c; Good, 22 to 23c; Prime, 24 to 25c; Choice, 26½ to 28c.

The FEED market is well supplied. 109 sacks CORN on levee sold at 75c. 150 sacks from store also at 75c. 150 sacks ear, on levee, 70c. OATS on levee at 75 to 77c. BRAN 23 to $24. HAY 27 to $28 on flatboat, and 30 to $31 from store.

The demand for CORNMEAL is light. Selling at $3 40 from mills; 3 50 to $3 75 from store.

The demand is fair for all kinds of DRIED FRUITS. Dried Apples 9 to 12c; Peaches 11 to 14c.

The stock of EGGS is fully equal to the demand and market dull at 16 to 18c.

The FLOUR market is quiet for all grades. Superfine, common to good, 6 to $7; X, 7 50 to $8; XX, 8 50 to $9; XXX and Fancy brands, 9 50 to $12.

In GRASS SEED we have no change to note. Clover is scarce at $11 per bushel. Blue Grass $3 25. Timothy $3 25. Orchard Grass $2 25. Herds $2. Millet $3. Lucerne and White Clover 75c per lb.

HIDES are firm and in demand, with prices tending upwards. Green, 9 to 9½c; Salt, 10 to 11c; Dry Salt, 20c; Dry Flint, 22c; Deer Skins, green, 15 to 16c; dry, 33 to 35c.

In IRON TIES we have no change to note. Selling at 6 to 7½c as to style.

Cape and Alabama LIME held at 2 to $2 25 per barrel. Utica 1 75 to $2. Louisville Cement 2 75 to $3.

SUGARS are steady and market well supplied, with fair demand. We quote Fair 14½c; Prime, 15½ to 16c; Choice, 16 to 17c; Yellow Clarified, 17½ to 18c; White Clarified, 18½ to 19c. MOLASSES is also dull; Common, 70 to 75c; Choice, 80 to 90c.

The PRODUCE market is weak and demand light. This is particularly the case with Potatoes. Peachblows 2 75 to $3. Shaker Russetts 3 to $3 50. Pinkeyes $4. London Lady's 3 50 to $4. Early Goodrich's 4 50 to $5. It must be borne in mind by our country friends that many Northern shippers are not very particular about the quality of the potatoes they ship, and daily perpetrate frauds by putting wrong marks upon their barrels. Those, therefore, who wish planting potatoes, if not good judges themselves, should have their seed selected by some one well posted. ONIONS are quiet at $5 per bbl.

In POULTRY there is but little change. Turkeys 15 to $20. Geese 5 to $7 50. Ducks 4 to $4 50. Chickens 4 to $5 50.

The stock of SALT is large and prices are steady. Large Dairy, in 7 bushel barrels, $4 50. Small Dairy, in 5 bushel barrels, $3 50. Large Common, in 7 bushel barrels, 3 30 to $3 50. Small Common, in 5 bushel barrels, 2 50 to $2 75. These are quotations in lots from first hands.

The TOBACCO market is fairly active. All low grades are in demand and prices are firm.

There is no change in WHISKY. The demand is steady and prices generally firm. Highwines 92 to 95c.

MISCELLANEOUS.

We had a goodly array of steamers at our wharf yesterday, and had it not been for the rain, matters would have been quite active. As it was, only those who could not avoid it were to be seen trudging through the mud.

The Belle Memphis came in ahead of time yesterday, with an excellent trip from St. Louis.

The Thos. H. Allen, from the Arkansas, had a good freight and large number of people.

The Julia passed up for St. Louis and the Commonwealth down for New Orleans.

The Ruth is reported to be aground at Carroll's landing.

The Norman, a regular and swift packet, for Cairo and Evansville, will leave to-day at 5 p.m. Capt. J. B. Hall is her commander, and Hewitt the purser.

The musical, fleet and reliable Clifton is up for Cincinnati to-morrow. Capt Frank Stein and Clerk Hunter are "notorious" for their urbanity.

The Geo. W. Cheek leaves for Osceola to-day at 5 p.m. Frank Gonterman is her clerk.

The fine Natoma is advertised to leave at 5 p.m to-day for Helena and Friar's Point and intermediate landings. She is safe and reliable, and commanded by Capt. Jim Lee, with B. P. Field and Stack Lee in the office.

The palatial low pressure packet Richmond, Capt. J. Stut. Neal, will leave at ten o'clock this morning for New Orleans. Woolfolk and Lodge are the gentlemanly clerks.

The old reliable "Bull of the Woods," City of Alton, will leave at ten o'clock this morning for Vicksburg. She makes railroad time, mud or no mud. Capt. J. B Archer commands, and Jim White is clerk.

The elegant light draught steamer Guidon will leave to-morrow 10th inst., for Pine Bluff and all way landings. Clay Rice is her Captain and G. F. Huls clerk.

Capt. Tom R. Bowman will back out his fine steamer St. Francis for Wittsburg and all way points on the St. Francis to-day at the usual hour. Messrs. Paine and Clark do the honors of the office.

The Laura, Capt Morg. Bateman, will get away to-morrow at 5 p.m. for White river. She was delayed in consequence of the rain, but will positively get away as above.

The U. S. Mail packet Thos. H. Allen, with the veteran Capt. Reese Pritchard on the roof, backs out to-day for Pine Bluff and Little Rock. Besides making every way landing on the Arkansas, she connects with the packets for Fort Smith and other points on the upper Arkansas, and is altogther an elegant steamer. Messrs. Walker and Thomas have charge of the office.

The splendid steamer Des Arc came in on time yesterday with — bales cotton, and her cabin, as usual, full of people. She is the regular United States mail packet for White river to-day, connecting with the Little Rock train and with the Argos for points on the upper White river. J. D. Elliott is master, and Messrs. Elliott, Glass and Waddell are clerks.

Capt. D. DeHaven arrived yesterday from New Orleans. We are happy to state that no fears now exist as to the result of the project to which he has devoted so much of his energy and experience. Lands have been subscribed liberally, and work upon the Alpha will be resumed immediately.

The pleasant countenance of Visscher, of the Richmond's Headlight, will illumine our city for a few moments to-day.

We learn that the Inspectors of this port, who have been investigating the collision which occurred between the Julia and Mollie Hambleton, a few days ago, made their report yesterday. We did not get a copy of it, but understand that the pilot of the Julia was exonerated.

The friends of Messrs. Coery F. Walter and Wm. Griffith, who have been for so long connected with our elegant White river packets, the Liberty, Commercial and Mayflower, will be glad to learn that these gentlemen have formed a partnership, and have opened one of the finest restaurants in Memphis, at No. 38 North Court street, and have christened it the St. Nicholas, where at all hours, and at the most reasonable rates, the very best which the market affords can be found.

The splendid passenger steamer Belle Memphis, Capt. Crane, leaves the Company's wharfboat to-day at 4 p.m. for Cairo and St. Louis. She connects with the Eastern and Northern trains, and offers an excellent chance to persons bound North. Billy Blenker is her clerk.

The marine losses during February are reported as very light among American vessels and among foreign ships bound to or from American ports. The whole number totally lost and missing amounts to seventeen, nine of which were foreigners. Although the month was comparatively mild on shore, it may be recollected that there were some very severe storms on the Atlantic during February, which may have resulted in disasters not yet reported.

The river and harbor bill passed last session was reported Thursday from the Senate Committee on Commerce, with an amendment reducing the aggregate about one-fourth. It now gives $2,287,000. Michigan gets $254,000, Ohio $40,000, Wisconsin $180,000, Chicago harbor $13,000, Des Moines rapids $600,000, Rock Island rapids $14 000, Ohio river $80 000, Mississippi and Missouri rivers $100 000, and the Louisville canal $250,000

And be it further enacted, That cotton, hemp, hay, straw, or other easily ignitable commodity, shall not be carried on the deck or guards of any steamer carrying passengers, except on ferryboats crossing rivers, and then only on the sterns of such boats, unless the same shall be protected by a complete and suitable covering of canvas or other proper material, to prevent ignition from sparks, under a penalty of one hundred dollars for each offense. Nor shall coal oil or crude petroleum be hereafter carried on such steamers, except on the decks or guards thereof, or in open holds where a free circulation of air is secured, and at such distance from the furnaces or fires as may be prescribed by any supervisors (supervising) inspector or any local board of inspectors.

BUTTER.

THE ECONOMY BUTTER CO

Ask the attention of all interested in the reduction of the extravagant cost of Butter, to their practical and economical system of making pure prime Butter by aid of the

EXTRACT OF BUTTER PLANT.

A brief allusion to the origin of this important discovery may not prove uninteresting. Among the authenticated records of the renowned Captain Cook's voyage around the world, is found the statement, that while sojourning for a short time on the Brazilian Coast of South America, he observed the natives using, in the preparation of their food, a peculiar oil, which, upon examination, he found to possess the appearance, taste and flavor of Butter; upon further inquiry, however, he ascertained that it was simply a substance that the natives distilled in a crude and imperfect manner from a rich and luxuriant plant that grew spontaneously and abundantly in that warm tropical country. A few years ago an eminent French chemist, while on a professional visit to the tropics, made numerous experiments with this remarkable production of nature, and succeeded in extracting a concentrated essence of the plant. The formula for its preparation, and the Sole Right for the sale in this country are the exclusive property of this company, by whom it was purchased from the original discoverer. We claim for this remarkable, yet simple and perfectly harmless preparation—

1st. That by its use a net gain of from 50 to 200 per cent. is made in the manufacture of Butter.

2d. That Butter, which from age or whatever cause, may be strong, rancid, streaked or coarse-grained, and comparatively useless for general use by the aid of this Extract is restored to its original freshness and sweetness, fine grain and even color.

3d. By the use of this Extract, one pound of delicious, fresh Butter is actually made from one pint of milk.

4th. That a pure and excellent table Butter can be made, at a cost of from 15 to 20 cents per pound. The chief expense wherein being Butter, which is the essential base.

5th. That Butter manufactured by the aid of this Extract is equal in every respect to the best Butter made by the ordinary method.

6th. The Extract, after thorough analysis, by able chemists, is pronounced perfectly free from any deleterious substance, the ingredients being purely of a vegetable nature.

7th. In proof of the foregoing assertions, the factory of this company is making one ton of Butter per day, which meets with ready sale in the New York market, and is consumed from the tables of the first hotels, restaurants and private families in this city and elsewhere.

A sample package of the EXTRACT (sufficient to make fifty pounds of Butter), with full directions for use, will be sent to any address on the receipt of $1.

CAUTION.—As all articles of real merit are subject to spurious imitations, we would specially caution the public against counterfeits and worthless imitations, advertised as powders, compounds, etc., as the Extract of the Butter Plant is prepared and sold only by

M. CADART'S Pure Vegetable Coloring, $1 a pound, sufficient to give a rich golden yellow to 200 pounds of White Butter; 50 cents per sample package, sent to any address. No farmer should be without it, as white and streaky Butter is worth from six to ten cents a pound less in all markets than that of a rich yellow. feb21
